Summary

Aiming to dive deep in a new career as web developer, I have been training with modern technologies such as HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React, Node.js, and Angular. Skilled in agile methodologies, building responsive applications, and integrating RESTful APIs.

Great skills developed through a background in psychology, including empathy, problem-solving, and effective communication, enhance the ability to understand user needs and collaborate within multidisciplinary teams.

Highly interested in refining my new skills and creating practical solutions, with a focus on clean code. Currently seeking opportunities to contribute to projects that combine technology and meaningful work.

Some Of My Full Stack Projects

Movie API

This project is a Movie API that provides access to information about different movies, directors, and genres. Users can sign up, update their personal information, and list their favorite movies. The API is built with Node.js and uses MongoDB for data storage.

Movieverse Angular Client

My Flix Angular Client is a single-page, responsive movie app built with Angular. The client-side application consumes a REST API backend, allowing users to explore information about various movies, directors, and genres, as well as manage their user profiles.

Chat App

Chat App is a mobile messaging application built with React Native and Expo, designed for real-time communication. The app allows users to chat with friends and family, share images, and exchange location data. It also features offline message reading, making it a reliable communication tool. The app ensures accessibility for users with visual impairments by supporting screen readers.
